145 Brattle Street,
Cambridge, Mass.

December 17, 1915

Dear Mr. Grinnell:-

You are most kind to have so long and faithfully borne in mind my desire for Garrard's book but inasmuch as the copy now obtainable is held at so exorbitant a price I fear it must be left for some purchaser whose purse is better filled than mine.

Thanking you very heartily, nevertheless, for thus remembering my wish, and wishing you and yours a Merry Christmas & Happy New Year, I am

Sincerely

William Brewster.

? Brewster

I did a little shooting last autumn & enjoyed it hugely although only three birds (all Pheasants) fell to my humble gun.